Alameda County does not dismiss under the current circumstances. The two-year and three-year services statutes are far away.

There is no authority to serve the Adli Law Group at this time.

We are serving Dariush Adli only at this time.

Don,

You're wrong. If you don't serve, the case will be dismissed for failure to prosecute. I'm dealing with this in another case right now. If you have any legal objection to serving both Defendants, voice that legal objection immediately, i.e. TODAY. Thanks.

There is no risk of dismissal for failure to prosecute, but thanks for your concern.

Don,

I'm sure your research is now complete. Unless you get back to me today before close of business with good reason not to, then both Adli and Adli Law Group are being served. We do not wish to risk a dismissal for failure to prosecute. Ed, for one, has had more than enough of those, this being one of the main reasons we are suing Adli.
